

A DAY WITH THE KING

This week we will study about Jacob and Esau, and how a lie can get you into a lot of trouble.

Torchlight

“God had declared that Jacob should receive the birthright, and His word would have been fulfilled in His own time had they waited in faith for Him to work for them.”

– Patriarchs & Prophets p. 180

A DAY WITH THE

GENESIS 25:29-34

LET'S THINK ABOUT THIS

Esau came in from hunting and was tired and hungry. He asked for some of the lentil stew that Jacob was cooking, and wanted it right away. Jacob said he could have some if Esau sold him his birthright. Because Esau was the oldest and first born, he had the birthright. A birthright was something special and important and something to treasure. It involved an inheritance of worldly wealth as well as special spiritual rights. It meant a life of service to God. It was the family line in which Jesus would come. So for Esau the birthright was a bit of a burden. He liked the freedom to roam all over the country side to hunt animals. Religion was a restraint for him as Esau wanted to do what he liked. It was an easy decision for him to sell his birthright.

How much do we treasure our relationship with God? Do we hold it tight or do we let it go easily like Esau?

GENESIS 27:1-10

LET'S THINK ABOUT THIS

Isaac was very old and going blind. He was worried he was going to die so he asked Esau to go hunting and find some nice food to cook for him. Esau was to bring it to his father so he could bestow the final blessing on Esau. But Rebekah heard the conversation. She went to find Jacob, and told him about it. She asked him to go and get a kid goat from the flock and bring it to her. She would prepare a meal for Jacob to take to his father so he could get the blessing instead of Esau.

Did you know that telling a lie is actually breaking one of the ten commandments?

You can find that in Exodus 20:16.

GENESIS 27:11-17

LET'S THINK ABOUT THIS

Jacob was worried that his father would find out that he wasn't Esau, as Esau was a very hairy man. Rebekah went to a lot of trouble to trick Isaac. They put goat skins on Jacobs arms and neck so he felt hairy. They even dressed Jacob in Esau's clothes. Rebekah even cooked the food just the way Isaac loved. Jacob really wanted the blessing that was supposed to be Esau's.

Jacob wanted nothing better than to serve God. He wanted to be like his grandfather Abraham and commune with God, and he wanted the spiritual privilege of being in the family line of the coming Messiah, Jesus.

It's always best to wait on the Lord and seek God's counsel and direction, even if what we want to do seems right from our standpoint.

Seek God First.

GENESIS 27:18-29

LET'S THINK ABOUT THIS

So, Rebekah and Jacob were successful in tricking Isaac. God had told Rebekah when she was pregnant that Esau, the older, would serve the younger, Jacob, but it was to be done in God's timing. Rebekah and Jacob went ahead of God and didn't wait for Him to do it His way, instead, they were impatient and did what they thought was right.

How's your patience? We could all do with some more of it.

You know patience is one of the fruits of the Holy Spirit. You can find it in Galatians 5:22-23. In the Bible another word for patience is longsuffering. We can claim this promise in Galatians and ask God to help us be more patient.

LET'S THINK ABOUT THIS

It was not long after Jacob left his father's tent that Esau turned up with the food he had hunted and cooked for Isaac.

Esau and Isaac found out they had both been tricked.

Do we think about the effect our lies have on other people and how they may react?

I think, if we knew that, we may think twice before lying.

GENESIS 27:37-40

LET'S THINK ABOUT THIS

Esau was very upset that his brother had tricked him. Isaac told him that he had blessed Jacob and couldn't take it away. Jacob would now be Esau's master. What God had told Rebekah had come true.

The oldest would serve the youngest. This meant that Esau, who was the oldest, would serve his younger brother, Jacob.

Think about what you could do today to prepare for the Sabbath.

What kind thing could you do today to make someone in your family happy?

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

So we have learnt this week that lying does not pay. Isaac and Rebekah had to send Jacob away to keep him safe from his brother, as Esau was so angry that he had been tricked that he wanted to kill Jacob. Jacob never saw his mother again.

God is not happy when we lie, and He wasn't happy when Jacob lied to his father. Both Rebekah and Jacob were very sorry for their sin and repented.

They realized they should have left the whole situation in God's hands. They were not patient; they went ahead with their lie and did not wait on the Lord. This caused a lot of trouble. But God still loved Jacob, even though he had done the wrong thing and God forgave him.
